Amelia Harvey, aged 14, a pupil at King's Church of England school in Regis Road, Fortonhall, who has been practising since she was five, triumphed in the Wudokai Championships held in Dublin recently.

Amelia, who lives in Oxley, goes to classes at the Ikon Martial Arts and Fitness Centre in Shool Road, Bushbury. She is taught karate by her father Spennett and is a black belt. She said: "I had to take part in four duels against other teenagers and won the gold medal. I was really looking forward to getting back to school to tell people about it." Mr Harvey said: "She did brilliantly to win the age category."
